Skills

I am kind and passionate for helping others. I take ownership over my work and collaborate well in groups. I am very creative, and when I am not coding you'll likely find me recording a new song or learning a new skill.

As a developer, I am a proficient PHP coder and web developer. I have lead development experience and work independently, under deadlines, without any hand holding required. I code using best practices, frameworks, and build tools to speed up the project workflow. I have experience in relational database design and object oriented design patterns. I am also passionate for front-end development and excel at writing HTML, CSS/SASS, JavaScript and jQuery.
